Controversy Follows First Inspection of Institutions

Noble, Ragland Have Exchange On Facilities

JEFFERSON CITY — Controversy developed today as the Missouri Senate's Appropriations Committee finished the first leg of an inspection tour of state institutions.

After visiting a new branch of the Missouri State School for Mental Defectives at Higginsville yesterday, Committee Chairman John W. Noble (D) of Kennett issued a statement at his office here.

He told of inspecting the two modern dormitory buildings at Higginsville then added: "However, the committee was rather disappointed that the facilities could accommodate only 160 additional patients."

That drew an immediate response from B. E. Ragland, director of the State Division of Mental Diseases.

He recalled that a special committee headed by Noble in 1953 recommended development of the Higginsville site, where the old state home for Confederate veterans formerly was located. The committee recommended $1,410,000 for buildings to house up to 500 patients.

But, Ragland said, the Legislature appropriated only one million dollars and later ignored a recommendation of Gov. Phil M. Donnelly that an additional $500,000 be appropriated.

With the $1 million, Ragland said, the state got a bargain in two new dormitories houses 80 persons each, plus the laundry, kitchen and utility facilities to go with them and take care of later expansion.

Currently the school has asked for $1½ million from the state's $75 million bond issue for new buildings at Higginsville and another $500,000 for repairs and replacements. Asst. Budget Director W. B. McGregor left the $1½ million intact in his recommendation but lopped off the extra half million.

For all three units of the school at Higginsville, Marshall and Carrollton — the requests totaled $2,921,000 and McGregor cut that to $2,253,000.

Noble reported the committee found a need for new classroom facilities to handle booming enrollments at Southwest State College, Springfield, and at Central State at Warrensburg.

More Than 1,500 Attend Meeting NFO Thursday

Convention hall at Liberty Park was crowded Thursday night with farmers from, not only Pettis County, but surrounding counties and as far away as 150 miles, for the National Farmers Organization rally. In spite of the fact the two main speakers could not get here, the meeting proved very enthusiastic from the point of farm interest.

National President Oren Lee Staley, Rea, Mo., and former Gov. Dan Turner of Iowa, national advisor to the organization, were both in Washington, D. C., and could not return for the meeting. Olen Downs, Pettis County chairman, who presided, read letters from both sending their regrets at being detained in Washington on NFO business.

Among the speakers on the program were Ed Caldwell, former Missouri state representative from Perry County, and Karen McKenney, St. Joseph, both national directors, who spoke on the program of the NFO and gave reports on the activity of the group in Washington. Both men have been in delegations to the nation's capital. Several other leaders in the NFO movement were present and made talks.

There were 14 Missouri county chairmen of the organization present at the meeting.

The attendance was estimated at well over 1,500.

Spitely Exit

Sedalia's pleasant weather is not universal by a long shot. The northeastern states are having a pretty rough time of it. Old Man Winter was spittely on his way out.

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, colder late tonight and Saturday; low tonight in middle 30s; high Saturday 45-50.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 40, 61 at 1 p.m., and 62 at 2 p.m. Low Thursday night 35.

The temperature one year ago today, high 76, low 48; two years ago, high 62, low 37; and three years ago, high 64, low 29.

NEW NIKE COMPANION—This new supersonic guided missile, the Talos, soon will join the Nike in guarding America's shores against air attack. The Navy's ramjet-propelled anti-aircraft weapon, reported to have a substantially greater range than the Army's Nike, is based on the airframe of the Terrier Missile. The name of the guided rocket, which can strike invading bombers within a range of 30 miles, was taken from Greek mythology which records Talos as a man of brass given by the Gods to the King of Crete to guard his island against attack. Mobile Police Halt March On Assembly

Move by Algerian Nationalists Puts Paris in Turmoil

PARIS — Flying squads of mobile police ringed the French National Assembly today as debate resumed on measures to end the revolt in Algeria. Algerian nationalists in Paris staged protest strikes and flocked by thousands to the center of the city.

The Left Bank of the Seine—where the Assembly is located—resembled an armed camp. Security troops were bunched to prevent any march on Parliament.

A crowd of about 3,000 Algerians assembled at the Moslem mosque, about a mile from the Assembly, to listen to nationalist speakers. There were no police at the mosque but the nearby area was thick with them.

Premier Guy Mollet's request for strong and special powers to curb the 16-month-old Algerian revolt will be put to a confidence vote by the Assembly after the debate, scheduled to end today.

Eight North Africans who approached the Assembly building—two on foot and six in a taxi—were taken in custody by police.

The strike call sent out by Algerian nationalists affected mainly heavy industries in the Paris area, although there were reports of Algerians stopping work in other cities.

Docks, metal factories, chemical works, gasoline depots, food distributing agencies and several automobile factories, including the big Citroen plant, were effected by the strike.

ARRESTED — Arthur Paisnuer, 33, was arrested while a patient in a New York hospital by FBI agents and charged with staging the one-man, 188-thousand-dollar bank hold-up at Port Chester, N.Y., March 2. According to the FBI, Paisnuer, who gave his occupation as a horse trainer, kidnapped a woman bank teller and forced her to drive him around for approximately 10 hours before entering the Port Chester bank. The suspect entered the hospital March 5 for minor surgery, the agents said. (NEA Telephoto)

WASHINGTON — The Senate today adopted a compromise plan for corn to settle an angry farm bill debate. The row was over provisions some senators said would give corn farmers an advantage over producers of other feed grain.

The argument was set off by an amendment proposed by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to use 56 million acres as the base figure under which corn farmers would have to cut their plantings to qualify for payments from the administration's soil bank plan.

A 51 million acre national allotment for corn finally was written into the bill by voice vote after it was offered by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) and accepted by Hickenlooper.

Committee Gets Time Extension

Change in Deadline Is Needed so Group Can Prepare Report

WASHINGTON — The Senate voted today to extend until March 31 the life of its four-member special committee named to investigate a $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) during the gas bill debate.

Action was by voice vote and with no debate. Sen. George (D-Ga) has explained that the committee needed extra time to draft its report. The original deadline was March 1. Then it was extended until March 10.

In today's vote, the Senate also doubled the funds given the committee, increasing them from $10,000 to $20,000. The group conducted more extensive hearings than it originally planned, and costs of printing the hearing record will be greater than anticipated.

The extension also may afford more time for efforts by Democratic and Republican leaders to resolve a dispute over rules among members of the eight-member special committee named to conduct a broad lobbying investigation.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, said yesterday it seemed inappropriate to him for two select committees to be operating at the same time in the same field.

Thus there might be restraint on the eight-member group not to get started until the George committee expires. In effect, its assignment is to take up where the off in looking into any efforts to influence senators' votes.

Johnson told newsmen this morning that "we are pursuing" the matter of an agreement between George committee leaves off in looking into any efforts to influence senators' votes.

Cold Front to Bring Lower Temperatures Over the Weekend

KANSAS CITY — Missouri is in the path of an advancing cold front which will make for a cool weekend in the state.

But before the cold overspreads the state it will be warmer in the south and east. The cold will move in over the north and central sections Saturday. There is no mention of precipitation in the forecast.

The girls then were returned to jail in custody of a matron.

The girls were not represented by counsel. Each entered her plea separately. Three of their parents were in the courtroom — Mrs. George Denman, Mrs. Edward Jensma and Homer L. Davis.

Mrs. Denman cried during the proceedings.

One of the girls, Judy Damman, 17, explained that they decided on an impulse Wednesday to drive the 32 miles from Newton to Des Moines instead of going to their after-school jobs.

"When we got to Des Moines we were afraid to go home, so we just kept driving," she said. They fabricated the kidnapping story as they traveled, she added.

Ten miles northeast of here early yesterday the girls called officers from a farmhouse and said two men had kidnapped them in Newton and forced them to drive south.

The girls said they escaped from the men by driving the car into a ditch.

"It was just a crazy kid trick," growled Sheriff Floyd Huggins last night after the girls broke down and admitted the hoax following eight hours of questioning.

The other girls were Lois Davis, 18; Janeane Farnay, 17, and Gloria Jensma, 18, all high school seniors.

"I'm terribly sorry," Miss Davis told a reporter. "I don't know why we did it. We're really not that ignorant."

Raymond Meyers, Jr. Remains Critical

The condition of Raymond Meyers, Jr., 14, eighth grader of Smith-Cotton High School who fell from the railroad overpass on east Broadway, remains critical. The boy fell about 8:30 a.m. Thursday morning.

At Bothwell Hospital this afternoon it was reported no change was made in his condition since the accident. He is still unconscious.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, who is attending the boy, reported he suffered a fracture of the skull, possible fractures of the hips and of the right arm. His condition is too serious for him to be moved so X-rays can be taken.

PSC Authorizes Missouri Public Service to Increase Gas Rates

The Public Service Commission of Missouri today authorized Missouri Public Service Co. to increase its natural gas rates to customers here in order to offset increased cost of natural gas levied against Missouri Public Service by the Cities Service Gas Co.

The increase becomes effective March 23, 1956, the same day that Cities Service will increase its rates to Missouri Public Service. The Missouri Public Service Co. purchases all of its natural gas supply from Cities Service Gas Co.

The authorization follows action by Cities Service in filing a request with the Federal Power Commission in Washington, D.C., on Sept. 23, 1955, seeking an approximate $4,000,000 rate hike from the various distributing companies.

These companies are located in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The higher rates of Cities Service are scheduled to go into effect under the request filed by Cities

Service and the normal procedure of the PSC. This increase is a result of a second application recently filed by Cities Service Gas Co. with the Federal Power Commission.

The Federal Power Commission now has two applications

covering separate rate increases under consideration. When the

PSC renders a final decision on the applications of Cities Service for higher rates, refunds, if any, also will be made.

Weather Change Causes at Least Nine Fatalities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The northeast fought back today a late winter punch of torrential rains, floods, blizzards and chilling winds.

Flood waters were receding and snow had ceased falling but many persons still were homeless. Many homes were flooded or without heat in the blizzard areas where the storm disrupted power lines.

The strange range of weather of a dying winter caused at least nine deaths, two in New York State and seven in Canada.

The rampaging Allegheny River, which threatened Salamanca, N.Y., southwestern New York industrial city, and Warren, Pa., yesterday, was dropping from record heights.

In Salamanca the river was down almost a foot from the crest of 14 feet 11 inches—nine inches above the previous high water mark set in a disastrous flood of 1942. During the night the temperature dropped to 20 degrees and four inches of snow fell under blizzard conditions.

At Warren daylight found the river a foot below yesterday's record mark of 18.4 feet. But reports of higher water upstream in northwestern Pennsylvania and southern New York State indicated it would be days before many of the 500 evacuated families could get back into their homes.

The Warren General Hospital, completely surrounded by water, functioned as usual. Nurses on duty during the

Westinghouse Officials Are Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike drifted into its 145th day today with company, union and government mediators apparently all uncertain of what peace move to try next.

Company negotiators returned to Pittsburgh last night, saying they had no plans now for further bargaining.

A government-proposed peace plan submitted last Saturday was accepted without reservation by the company Tuesday but the union, refusing an outright yes or no reply, said it wanted somewhat better terms. The company called that a rejection.

Officials of the federal mediation service said they had not learned from James B. Carey, president of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers, precisely what further concessions he wants.

The settlement plan was drafted by a three-man federal mediation panel which has said it will stand pat on its recommendations as fair to both sides. The company termed its acceptance a "final offer."

Carey told reporters he wants discharged strikers who are accused of strike violence restored to their jobs outright without recommended arbitration of the charges.

He also insisted on greater assurances from the company against pay or work opportunity losses for workers who may be transferred from an incentive, or piece rate pay basis, to a straight day work pay system. The company said it needed certain latitude to shift its production methods from time to time.

Police Mail Traffic Citation to Singer On Auto Accident

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Kay Starr has been mailed a police traffic citation charging that she ran a red light on Broadway.

Miss Starr was injured when, officers say, her auto struck another at an intersection and knocked it into an orange grove.

Police quoted her as saying she became confused when a passenger in her car suggested she continue straight ahead after she had started to make a turn at the intersection. She said she braked the car but it skidded through the stop signal and hit the auto of Augustine Sierra and his wife Francisco. They suffered minor injuries.

Miss Starr was ordered to appear before Judge W. S. Caudill, Corona Justice Court. She is now in Beverly Hills Doctors Hospital.

The hospital today continued to report her condition as fair. Her manager Hal Stanley said her injuries were much less severe than at first indicated. He said she had bruises on her arms, legs and neck and some scratches and would be released from the hospital in a day or two.

Funeral rites for her sister, Mrs. Edna Smith, wife of Hubert L. Smith, New Franklin, were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Methodist Church in New Franklin, the Rev. Walter B. Morgan and the Rev. Dwayne Reed officiating.

Mrs. Chamberlin was born 27, 1887, at Bellair. She was married to George Chamberlin on April 30, 1909.

Mrs. Chamberlin is survived by her husband; two sons, A. H. Chamberlin, Malta Bend, and George Hall Chamberlin, Bonneville; a daughter, Mrs. M. W. Cecil, Ottawa, Kan., nine grandchildren, and the sister and brother mentioned above.

Mrs. Chamberlin had been a patient for 39 days, but Mrs. Smith had been admitted there Sunday after suffering a light stroke early that morning. Death was unexpected as she seemed to be recovering.

Edna Smith and Clara Chamberlin were daughters of the late Hoke and Sarah Elizabeth Tanner Eichelberger of Pilot Grove.

Mrs. Smith was born November 27, 1890 near Pilot Grove. She was married to Hubert L. Smith November 25, 1915, who survives. The couple had four children, Martha Sue, Mrs. Cecile Brown of the home; Eloise, Mrs. Kenneth Hollandsorth, Wichita, Kan., Lowell Hoke Smith, and Albert F. Smith of New Franklin.

The sisters are also survived by a brother, Hall Eichelberger, and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Worts, Bonneville. They were preceded in death by their parents, a sister, Mrs. Frank Walker, and a brother, Marvin Eichelberger.

Mrs. Smith leaves four grandchildren, Maurine Brown Dodson, Keith Brown, Patty Smith, New Franklin, and Kenneth Hollandsorth, Wichita, Kan.

She united with the Bellair Methodist Church when a young girl, and later moved her membership to the Methodist Church at New Franklin.

Public Disfavors Drag Racing

The riddle of The Sphinx is no more enigmatic than many burnt tire marks seen on pavements by motorists traveling the highways.

What tragic story has left its blackened imprint on the concrete? Was it death? Was it escape? Or was it merely a trade mark left behind by idiotic drag racers?

Not only are burned rubber marks made by braking automobiles before a crash but also they are imprinted when drag drivers "peel off" from a dead stop. Two abreast they charge down a highway. Youthful exhilaration, and a mania for speed sends them toward a quick 80 mile an hour victory or maybe death. A drag race like that on the Sixteenth Street road west of the glass plant cost the life of a Sedalia girl last fall. Only a few weeks passed until reports were current racing had been resumed on the same road.

Drag racers are not easily caught by law enforcing officers. They have a way of setting up spotlight signals at either end of a pre-determined stretch of main traveled highways. Companions warn of approaching traffic or officers.

Down Buffalo way the draggers at one time played something akin to Russian roulette. Instead of using a revolver loaded with one bullet and betting a pull of the trigger wouldn't blow their brains out, drag racers barreled their automobiles at 80 miles an hour down a road crossing heavily traveled Highway 65. The game was not to reduce speed but whiz across the intersecting concrete without smashing into any north or south bound traffic.

The prospect of death or injury to innocent persons does not seem to restrain the speed-hungry drag racers who prefer to test their skill on highways traveled by thousands of vehicles every day.

Now it seems drag racing has moved to town. One of those "hilarious" episodes occurred on West Third street without necessary preliminary precautions against detection. A police car was right on the heels of the racers. But that is not always going to be the case.

If intown drag racing is to become a practice of youthful or adult drivers then the citizens will have to help break it up by obtaining license numbers and having the fortitude to file charges. Otherwise some terrible intersection crash may bring death and injury to innocent people.

There has been some talk in Sedalia of establishing a private drag strip on which racers might work off excess enthusiasm. The idea hasn't met with public acceptance insofar as taxpayers are willing to buy and maintain such an experimental laboratory for ebullient youth.

About the only merit of a private strip is to keep the racers from endangering lives on the public highways and city streets. Do parents want to underwrite the cost and encourage the children to gamble with their lives, or to burn up Dad's two-toned job?

If they do then it comes under the head of private business.

But under the head of public business is the necessity to see that drag racing is discouraged on the public highways and city streets where under normal driving conditions there are enough fatalities and injuries.

We do have speed limits in town which are a deterrent to the throttle-pushers. But what about a state speed law? Legislators in session at Jefferson City are complaining they haven't got enough business to keep them busy figuring out how to distribute $75,000,000 of bond issue money among state institutions. Why can't they give some supplemental consideration to a state speed law with the idea of doing something about it next regular session when there will be no restrictions on the business the solons may take up.

If ever Missouri does get a speed law we hope it will provide more than a $25 fine for those convicted of drag racing which puts life in more jeopardy than just plain speeding.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

US Ships Move to Near East Hot Spots

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — U. S. officials are not advertising it, but orders have been given to two cruisers and six destroyers of the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean to join with units of the British Mediterranean fleet in standing off Israeli-Arab ports during the next few weeks.

This coincides with U. S. intelligence reports that war may break out in the Near East in April.

These reports are based not only upon growing Arab fanaticism, but on the fact that the Arab nations now have the small state of Israel in a bind where, in case of war, Israel could probably be wiped out. The Arabs also have the United States in a bind from which it will be extremely difficult if not impossible for us to get out.

Delay, procrastination, general bungling have put us in a cross-saw by which we jeopardize one or the other of the following objectives in the Near East:

1. The future of the tiny state of Israel which we have long championed as a national policy.

2. The tremendous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia, considered the greatest in the world.

3. Air bases in Saudi Arabia, which are within striking distance of Moscow.

4. Air bases in North Africa, located among other Arab peoples, all seething with hatred of Israel and resentment against the West.

In case of war or even the use of U. S. troops around Israel to prevent war, the lives of American women and children at these far flung North African bases would be in jeopardy.

What has happened to change the balance in the Near East are two things:

A. The exit of British Lieut. Gen. John Glubb from Jordan, thereby making it possible for the Arabs to invade Israeli almost from inside Israel. Jordan police are right inside the old city of Jerusalem, are entrusted with its protection. As long as they were under British control they were a stabilizing influence. Now they are not.

B. The arrival of Russian-Czech tanks and jet planes in Egypt. These now make it possible for Egypt to do to Israeli what Hitler did to Czechoslovakia, Holland, Belgium, France.

Guest Editorial—

MILWAUKEE JOURNAL: Heaping Blame On Automation. An item in a labor publication quotes the president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen as authority for a statement that "the impact of automation as represented by the dieselization on the railroads has caused more than 40,000 carrier jobs to disappear in less than a decade."

That American railroads have switched from the more flexible, more efficient oil consuming diesel is an obvious fact. Some jobs have disappeared. Whether the number is 40,000 we have no way of knowing.

But to label as automation what is simply a change of equipment is not accurate.

There are many definitions for automation. Most simply, it is the operation of machines by other machines rather than by human hands. Using a better hammer or a better mousetrap is not automation. Neither is substituting the diesel for the steam locomotive.

Israeli airfields can be wiped out in a few minutes. Self-propelled Russian tanks, in the hands of Egyptians, can make mincemeat of Israeli defenses.

Israel is so minute that, faced with this kind of strength, it probably could be wiped out before American-British troops could intervene.

There was a time, last summer, before the arrival of Red arms, when the opposite was true. The Israeli army, well-trained and determined, could probably have captured Cairo. Its troops are far superior to the Egyptian in old-fashioned warfare, but now far behind in the new Hitler blitzkrieg techniques — thanks to Soviet tanks and planes.

Chief cause of the present dynamite-laden crisis is a split personality inside the State Department; also to some extent inside the British foreign office.

The State Department has been torn between Arabian oil and Jewish Israel. Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover, Jr., a power in Union Oil of California and the man who handled the Iranian oil dispute, has sided with the Arabs. Some other State Department officials have sided with the Jews. Secretary Dulles has teetered in between. This split personality has caused fumbling and delay.

Senate Sidelines

New Jersey's conscientious Sen. Clifford Case, a possible substitute for Vice President Nixon on the GOP ticket, has been dubbed "the Adlai Stevenson of the Republican party." . . . Ohio's jolly Sen. George Bender seldom loses his temper, but he blew off steam the other day at his assistant, Mrs. C. D. Terry. The verbal explosion echoed through the Senate corridors. After taking a dose of hot words, Mrs. Terry spat back: "Don't speak to me like that, little man!" . . . Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson's friends are excusing his stand on the natural gas bill because he's a Texan. His opponents argue, however, that he should give up the Senate leadership if he must put Texas oil ahead of the national interests. They are tired of Texans running both houses of Congress to suit the Texas oil-gas crowd. . . . Maryland's Sen. John Marshall Butler, who looks like a startled robin, was gleeful over the news that Ike would run again. Butler's GOP seat is at stake. In the past, Butler has been more loyal to Senator McCarthy than President Eisenhower, but has discovered, belatedly, that Ike's political pulling power is greater than McCarthy's.

Capital Comments

Sen. Joe McCarthy, who has been cooking with gas lately, seems to have cooked his own goose. The Wisconsin whiz kid voted for his Texas millionaire friends instead of the folks back home on the natural gas bill. Reports from Wisconsin indicate this was the last straw: his constituents have had enough. Citizens who wouldn't dare speak against him two years ago are now openly suggesting that he move to Texas. He is representing the Texas oil millionaires, they say, so he may as well live there.

Mild Presidential Campaign Is Likely

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This will be a pretty mild presidential campaign if the Democrats follow the line taken by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), whom they picked to reply to President Eisenhower.

It would go like this:

Clobber Eisenhower's aides but mix any criticism of Eisenhower himself with nice words; even praise him; make attacks on him more oblique than frontal; and blame him for sins of omission rather than those of commission.

The Democrats are in a dilemma with Eisenhower. And it seems to peep through Sparkman's talk this week. He took to the airwaves in reply to Eisenhower's Feb. 29 broadcast dealing with his health and his running again.

This is the dilemma:

How to handle a president who is so popular and has the widest sympathy and good will after his heart attack. Roughing up a national hero not in perfect health could lose votes.

By this time any other president in office as long as Eisenhower, would be full of worms from opposition clubbing. There'd be no surprise in giving him more of the same when the campaign begins.

But the Democrats haven't treated Eisenhower like that for most of his time in the White House. They have handled him as if he were marked: "Fragile: Use No Hooks."

Eisenhower, no professional politician himself, could give the pros lessons if you accept this definition of a successful politician: one who gets much done he wants done while retaining maximum popularity to carry into the next election.

From the beginning of his presidency Eisenhower, deliberately or by nature, put himself above the rough-and-tumble of politics.

Making no personal attacks, he has given others a minimum excuse for attacking him personally.

This is the dilemma:

During these past three years angry Democrats may have wanted to hit Eisenhower directly but most of the time they aimed their fire at the men around him. If there were casualties, they didn't include Eisenhower.

Ted Kluszewski Will Not Change Batting Tactics

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Ted Williams shift—with the second baseman playing behind first and the shortstop behind second—may have cost Ted Kluszewski the National League batting title last year but Cincinnati's "Mr. Muscles" intends to keep on pulling the ball.

The powerful first baseman, probably the most feared batter in the National League, calculated the shift deprived him of about 15-20 hits. This he figured meant about 30 points to his batting average.

Add 30 points to his .314 batting average and the 245-pound left-handed slugger would have topped Richie Ashburn's league-leading .338 by six points.

Did he intend to break up the shift by hitting a few times to the vacated spot in left field?

"No," was Ted Kluszewski's surprising reply. "I won't change. I intend to keep pulling the ball."

"I'm being paid to hit home runs."

The shift didn't prevent big Klu from reaching the right field seats. He blasted 47 homers last year, 25 on the road and 20 off southpaw hurlers, to mark his third consecutive 40-plus home run season. He drove in 113 runs, his fourth 100-RBI season. He also managed to accumulate 192 hits.

Red Pollard, who rode Seabiscuit, is exercising horses this winter for the Short Brook Farm at Hialeah.

S-C Tigers Score Close Win Over Jays In Tourney

Smith-Cotton Triumphs, 55-53, In Semi-finals of State Regional At Eldon; Play for Title Tonight

The Smith-Cotton Tigers had a horrifying experience Thursday night in their semi-final game with the Jefferson City Jays, but they edged out their opponents 55-53 for the third victory of the season over the Jays. The Tigers moved into the finals to be played tonight against Hickman of Columbia, who defeated Marshall 81-67 in the second game of the evening.

It was just about anybody's game up to the final sound of the horn ending the game. The Tigers led at the end of the first quarter 16-14 but the spread was not enough to hold the lead through the half as the Jays moved ahead in the second period scoring, 14 to 11, for the intermediate lead of a one-point margin, 28-27.

Rudd Van Dyne likewise scored when opportunity presented itself. He dunked two goals and three of his six free throws for seven points.

Tonight will be much like Thursday night. That's the indication from the Kewpies who had declared they'll have Van Dyne well guarded. However, the other Tigers seemed to pick up in their own scoring power against the Jays and dropped a few through the loop, and they may get hotter tonight against a fighting group.

Hickman and Sedalia have played in their first to the Tigers by a score of 30-37 which has caused no pleasant feelings of Coach Bob Murray of the Kewpies toward the Tigers. The second facing of the two teams ended in a 73-62 defeat for the Tigers.

Murray and Coach Howard Glavin will be matching wits tonight in this important game. Both teams in the Central Missouri Conference will be fighting for top honors. The Tigers, already champions of the conference circuit, will defend the honor against Columbia and prove their strength as Conference champions.

With 55 seconds to go the Tigers led 52-46. Stacy dropped in a goal to make it 52-48 with 44 to go; Newman made one of two free throw shots to bring it up 53-48; then Koerner made a free throw and it was 53-49. Rauschelback moved in under the basket and tipped one in to narrow the gap to 53-51 points; Newman was fouled by Mel West which took the sharp colored boy from the game, and Newman's two shots were good to make it 55-51 with 22 seconds to go; then Toebeen, with eight seconds left made a goal to bring it to 55-53. The Tigers took the ball and threw it in and the Jays crowded over Walt Kenyon to make it a jump ball with two seconds left. The ball was tipped to Griffin who grabbed hold and held it as the horn sounded ending the game—the Tigers winning another one of their tight games with Jefferson City.

It is interesting to note in the three meetings the Tigers have an added total of nine points over the Jays. They won their first 42-41; the second 60-54; and the game Thursday 55-53.

Charles Van Dyne earned everything he got in this game. Scoring seven goals and eight free throws, and incidentally the free throw shooting had much to do with the closeness and winning of the game. The Jays kept from two to three men surrounding Van Dyne whenever Sedalia had possession of the ball and his goals were all made taking the ball from the boards.

Walt Kenyon soon caught the eye of the Jays and they started pressuring him, but not leaving pion and six-time Titleholders winner.

A warming note was the appearance of Babe Zaharias, member of the Ladies' Professional Golfers Assn., who was flown to Augusta from her Tampa, Fla. home last night. Mrs. Zaharias is convalescing from a second battle with cancer.

The increase in seating capacity to 42,000 plus means the teams in the next Gator Bowl game can collect more than $80,000 each. Auburn and Vanderbilt each got $71,000 for last year's game.

Ex-Rheumatic Fever Patient Seeks Golden Gloves Heavy Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Pete Rademacher, who threw off the effects of rheumatic fever in 1945 to make his mark in the Army and athletics, has an Olympic boxing berth in mind tonight as he aims for the Golden Gloves heavyweight crown.

Pete is a 27-year-old infantry lieutenant at Fort Benning, Ga., who fights on the Nashville, Tenn., team.

In a tournament that since the war has been dominated by servicemen, only eight are among the 32 top fighters from west of the Alleghenies who enter the semi-final and title competition in Chicago Stadium.

The others come from all walks of life.

All are survivors of preliminaries at the stadium last week which reduced the field of 256 scrappers to the 32.

Younger Golf Pros Take the Spotlight In Pensacola Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—The spotlight was on the younger pros, and especially on Kerry Kesselering, in the second round of the $12,500 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament today.

Kesselering, a wiry 27-year-old from Toronto, Canada, parlayed a hot putting into a two-stroke lead over the "old pros" in yesterday's opening round. His 4-under-par 68 was one of 20 subpar or par rounds turned in by the 153-man field over the 6,627-yard Pensacola Country Club course.

Most of the low 20 scores were turned in by the more youthful pros.

The veteran Buck White, Memphis, Tenn., came home with a 70, together with George Bigham, Kansas City, Mo.; Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio; Don Hebert, Sanford, Fla.

Three were bracketed at 71—Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla.; John Serafin, Fox Hill, Pa.; and Joe Back, Abilene.

Ed Furgol, 1954 U. S. Open champion, was among 11 entrants who had par 72s.

TV to Hold British Film Premiere

BY CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Laurence Olivier's three-hour British film production of Shakespeare's "Richard III" has its American premiere on NBC-TV Sunday afternoon. It is the most significant single television programming event ever shown on the home screen. It's the most costly: $500,000 reportedly is the price NBC paid Sir Laurence. It unquestionably has the most impressive cast of English actors ever assembled. British critics say it is Olivier's best film work.

The general facts about the presentation have been well publicized. It is the longest single program of the past year.

But most significant is the fact that for the first time television has entered into competition with motion picture houses by offering a major film to a potential audience of many millions before it is available in a theater. In fact, the film will make its theater debut in New York a few hours after it ends on the TV home screen.

Many movie distributors are crying over this one. The movie industry is watching its results alertly. Holding in mind that old reservation about the accuracy of audience ratings, it will be interesting to see what sort of an audience "Richard III" attracts and holds on NBC-TV. But the most significant result will not be apparent for some time until figures will be available on its movie house attendance.

Then it will be possible to determine with some accuracy—and for the first time—whether TV actually can usurp a motion picture theater audience. If movie house distribution of "Richard III" results in a box office flop, it probably will be a long time before

If, on the other hand, it commands a passably good theater audience, some film producers will continue to flirt with their works. And if, of course, it should be a box office hit, the TV audience in time unquestionably will see many new films before theater distribution.

Denies Charges Of Embezzling Money From Loan Company

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—In a response filed to charges leveled against her in a Federal District Court suit, Miss Minnie Mangum has denied she embezzled money from the defunct Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn.

State Prosecutor Linwood B. Tabb Jr. says he does not "consider the answer filed . . . as a denial of the criminal charges but merely a denial of allegations contained in one specific suit."

Miss Mangum, 52-year-old spinner, has waived a police court hearing on a charge of grand larceny of $174,000 from Commonwealth, wrecked by shortages auditors say total $2,919,000. Her case will be presented to a grand jury in April or May.

US Attorney Makes Appeal For Prisoner

BALTIMORE (AP)—U.S. Atty. George Cochran Doub has gone to bat for a Japanese soldier serving 30 years at hard labor for a wartime execution which Doub says actually was instigated by an American — former Sgt. John David Provo.

In a six-page letter to Conrad E. Snow, chairman of the U.S. Clemency and Parole Board in Washington, Doub urged the release of Sgt. Seitaro Fujita, convicted and sentenced at Yokohama, Japan, in 1948 for his part in the murder of Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Iowa, an American prisoner of the Japanese. Four other Japanese soldiers were also convicted and given sentences ranging from two years to life.

Doub said the instigator of Thomson's murder was Provo, once convicted of treason for informing on and causing the execution of Thomson. Provo later won his freedom on several technicalities concerning his trial and long imprisonment.

Further punishment of Fujita, a Japanese enlisted man with only six years' schooling, carrying out in the presence of his superior officer a military order, originating with his battalion commander . . . and provoked by an American prisoner of war, Provo, seems a grotesque travesty of justice when we consider the proper and careful solicitude the courts have shown for the protection of Provo's rights and the release of Provo from the treason charge," Doub said in the letter.

The blaze was first noticed by a neighbor in the "bottoms" section of town. He ran telephoned firemen. When the first units arrived, the fire had enveloped the home.

Three dogs owned by the Twymans escaped from the building but one ran back in and was burned to death.

The victims were Mrs. Twyman, 35; Eleanor, 20; Claudette, 18; John Jr., 13; Josephine, 9; Stephen, 8; Dorcas, 6; Louis, 4; Janet, 2; and Eleanor's children, Andrew, 3, and an 8-month-old boy, name unknown.

Hal Boyle's Column--

Civilization's Unsung Hero Is Common Bore of Society

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a pavement Plato: The unsung hero of civilization is not the common man but the common bore.

The common man has had so much praise in this generation that everybody wants to be one. How often do you hear someone remark: "Well, looking at it from the viewpoint of the common man I'd say—?"

But nobody ever hymns the common bore, and no one will publicly admit he is one. This is unfair. We give even the devil his due. Why deny the common bore the credit he deserves?

The truth is that the common man is the backbone of civilization; the common bore is the social glue of civilization. He forces us to stick together to escape him.

I asked a famous hostess once what was the secret of a successful party.

"One secret," she replied, "is to be sure to invite at least one resounding bore."

"Why?" I inquired, surprised.

"Well," she said, "a bore fills that critical gap between the arrival of the guests and the time the second martini takes hold. He may not have a single thing worth saying—but he always has something to say."

No matter how strange the other guests may have felt at first, by the end of the second martini they know at least they aren't as boring as the one who has done all the talking up until then. He has knit them together—as a common annoyance always does.

"They have a fine time for the rest of the party enjoying each other, and ducking him."

While this may seem like cruelty toward the bore, the saving feature is that if he is a real, true-born bore, he goes home from the party more satisfied than anybody. He is flattered to have held so many ears for so long.

Naturally, there are different types of bores, and their virtues vary. Here are the two general classes:

The galloping, or strident bore. He is usually an agile, loud-mouthed spokesman or an obscure cause. "Why," he demands, "do firemen only collect Christmas toys for poor children in their own neighborhood? Why don't they ship them to the Mau Mau kiddies as a goodwill gesture?" He not only wants your attention. He expects you to contribute funds. Very little can be said of this kind of bore. He is a public nuisance.

The sedentary, or slow-moving bore—is this merely a simple-hearted fellow on a verbal rocker whose mind is in his vocal cords, and whose nature endlessly craves an audience. He is actually the salt of the earth. But you know how it is with salt. Enough's enough.

What is the very worst bore of all? Historians of the bore say there is really very little difference between male and female bores of the common, or sedentary variety. But they likewise agree that nothing is more impossible than a galloping lady bore under full head of steam and with her throttle open.

No sensible hostess will invite a strident petticoat bore to two shindigs in a row. She'll shrill any party to death.

But, generally speaking, haven't some of the most unforgettable characters you've ever known been bores? They live on in memory long after those of greater charm and sense fade away.

The ordinary bore is a social catalyst who restores our sense of humor and helps keep our own problems in perspective.

We have to like him a bit secretly, because who, in his own heart, can dodge the knowledge that sometimes he is a bit of a bore himself?

Hail to the common bore, key-stone of modern society!

(Monday: America's ten most common types of bores.)

Philippine President Witnesses US Naval Demonstration at Sea

MANILA (AP)—A U. S. Navy task force took Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay to sea today to witness a naval demonstration off the southern coast of Luzon island.

The force was made up of three aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser, and seven destroyers, most of them veterans of the Korean War. Magsaysay saw the exercises from the carrier Shangri-La.

Caesarean Birth Film Will Be Shown on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An actual birth by Caesarean section will be shown on film next Monday on NBC's television program Medic. An unidentified mother and father gave permission for the filming of the operation, which lasted about five minutes, and it will be shown from beginning to end, NBC said. The parents will watch the show. It's the first Caesarean to be shown on TV, NBC said.

Police Chief Serves As Delivery Boy

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Clarence H. Demo-GOP Tiff On Query Procedures Threatens To Split Lobby Investigation

WASHINGTON, March 8—A sharp Democratic-Republican quarrel over how to run the Senate investigation of influence pressures threatened today to break it up before it even gets started. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), who has been tentatively chosen to be chairman of the evenly divided eight-member investigation committee, carried the dispute into the open.

He told the Senate the four Republicans on it were demanding, in the name of bipartisanship, a division of authority that would hamstring any investigation. In that situation, he said, it would be "doomed to failure before it started."

Want Dual Responsibility

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), the likely vice chairman, said the Republican members weren't asking anything unreasonable. He said they did want "dual responsibility, dual control and dual authority."

Gore offered to drop out of consideration for the chairmanship if that would help things. Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), the Senate's party chiefs, both counseled patience.

So did Sen. Purtell (D-Conn.), who said he agreed with Johnson that "it is a far from hopeless situation."

Gore related that at the first gathering of the committee members, Bridges suggested that meetings be called only by joint action of the chairman and vice chairman, and that subpoenas for witnesses be issued the same way.

Gore said this prompted Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.) to say that "a senator who would accept the chairmanship under the proposed conditions, would need his head examined."

Seeks Demo Control

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said that if the Gore-Bridges committee cannot get together, a committee of five Democrats and four Republicans should take over. Or, he said, the Senate's regular committees could do the job.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) announced that if the special investigating committee has not gotten organized and settled on its procedure by a week from today, he will move to abandon it and let the regular Senate committees move in.

Regular committees always have a majority made up of members of the party in control, currently the Democrats. Select committees, such as the one which looked into the spurned offer of a campaign contribution to Sen. Case (R-SD), may be evenly divided.

No Progress By Group Yet

The Senate voted 79-7 on Feb. 22 to set up the select committee that still hasn't gotten off the ground. It voted it $350,000 for an investigation of lobbying, campaign contributions or any improper or illegal effort to influence any senator, or anyone in the government.

In addition to Gore and Bridges, the committee assignments were given to Anderson (D-N.M.), Kennedy (D-Mass.), McClellan (D-Ark.), Goldwater (R-Ariz.), Purtell (R-Conn.) and Thye (R-Minn.).

Bridges told the Senate that the Republicans want to guard against "a runaway committee." He said they were trying to assure two-party cooperation on the select committee, and accused Gore of taking "a very pessimistic and very gloomy view."

They said Bridges spoke for all the Republicans on the committee.

Kennedy likewise backed up Gore for the Democrats.

Communications Hampered—Floods In Eastern US Cause Evacuation, Much Damage

By The Associated Press

A late winter tempest pounded the eastern part of the nation from West Virginia to Canada Thursday with a furious bombardment of rain, hail, sleet and snow. Bursting rivers chased uncounted numbers—perhaps thousands—from homes.

Four deaths were attributed to the wild storm. Two were in New York, the others in Canada.

While its windpower in most instances was small, the tempest's powerful punch in others ways stirred memories of the hurricanes of recent years. Some of the same areas were walloped anew.

The only really stiff winds were in Canada. There they caused a blizzard in the Canadian city of Ottawa and in the Ottawa Valley.

In the United States, troubles stemmed mostly from new deluges of rain and snow on top of previous downpours for as many as four days.

See Damage In Millions

Property damages ran high—most likely into millions of dollars.

Farms were inundated in New York and Pennsylvania; homes and stores were under water, and roads washed out.

Floods and snow downed power and telephone lines in many parts of the Northeast. Airline flights were halted or delayed. Hundreds of schools were closed.

The combined fall of snow, freezing rain and hail piled up to a depth of 10 to 15 inches in the Pittsburgh area of New York State.

But the northwestern Pennsylvania city of Warren, which has 15,000 residents, apparently was the hardest hit spot of all. All roads leading into the city were cut.

Hospital Evacuated

The flood-swollen Allegheny River swept over its banks there, reaching a near-record level of 18 feet. Flood stage is 14 feet.

Within the city, the Warren General Hospital also was ringed by water, which soon began gushing into the first floor. Officials were evacuating the 110 patients, including seven newborn babies, by boat.

Lawson said Mrs. Devona Smith, 1903 South Ingram, was passing in her car. They stopped her and told her who the boy was and asked her to call an ambulance and tell his parents. Mrs. Smith drove to a filling station a short distance east of the scene, called an ambulance and the police, and notified relatives. The boy was rushed to the hospital in the Ewing ambulance.

Robert Trout, 14, 508½ South Summit, and David Schick, 508½ South Summit, were east of the overpass when the accident occurred. Trout told officers he saw the boy running south of the tracks but didn't see him fall.

The Allegheny and other streams in the area drove hundreds of residents to higher and drier ground.

Further up the Allegheny in New York State, the river also wreaked havoc at Salamanca and in surrounding territory.

Appeal For Speedy Accord In Sand Strike In Kansas City Area

KANSAS CITY, March 8—Workers in five Greater Kansas City communities today appealed to both sides in the sand strike to use the federal mediation and conciliation service to speed settlement of the dispute.

The Hoisting Engineers Local No. 101 went on strike last week against sand plants belonging to the Sand Producers Assn. of Greater Kansas City. The union is asking wage increases.

So far four ready-mix concrete plants have been forced to shut down. Others are expected to close tomorrow. The mayor pointed out the curtailment of private, commercial and municipal building due to lack of concrete.

Joining in the appeal were the mayors of Kansas City, Kansas City, Kan., Independence, Mo., North Kansas City, and Raytown.

Some of the boys thought at first he had been hit by a truck while walking on the roadway, but when they reached him and looked up they could see the edge of his small sack which contained his lunch and the corner of his case in which he carried his books. Then when Trout and Schick arrived and said they saw

Workers Impaled On Steel Rods In Fall

MIAMI, Fla., March 8—A worker was impaled on two steel rods when a scaffold collapse to day dropped him 12 feet.

Darrel L. Ernest, 36, of Hollywood, was extricated from a pit by workers who reported he was calm during the ordeal, saying only "Sure appreciate that."

The three-eights-inch rods were cut from their cement bases to free Ernest. One rod pierced his left hip, emerging through his right side; the other his left shoulder and back.

His condition was listed as critical.

That was when Rodney Bowman, Union Star, Mo., came by.

"That's my car he's driving, and it was stolen from me," Bowman told them.

The fellow who had been driving it is being held in the county jail on an open charge.

Deny Ike Has Cut His Duties

GOP's Rebuff Talk By Sparkman That Ike Is Reducing Presidential Work

WASHINGTON, March 8—A White House official and several Republican senators denied today that President Eisenhower has whittled down the constitutional duties of the presidency.

Their statements were in reply to a speech last night by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.).

Sparkman said Eisenhower, because of medical restrictions on his activities, is delegating to others "functions which lie at the very core of the presidency."

Cutting 'Hospitality' Functions

The Republican replies were that Eisenhower is merely curtailing the "folderol" and "hospitality" functions of the office.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, told reporters with reference to what Eisenhower has said at his last two news conferences:

"I think the President very clearly stated last Wednesday and again yesterday the distinction between his constitutional duties and his hospitality duties, the latter being the department in which he has reduced his activities.

"Certainly he has not reduced his constitutional duties."

Referring further to Sparkman's contention, Snyder said:

"I don't think the senator would measure his services by the number of hours he puts in on the floor, or by the number of constituents he sees."

Devotes More Time To Decision

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) said Eisenhower "is only getting rid of the folderol so he can devote more time to administrative decisions."

Similarly, Sen. Allott (R-Colo.) said "the President is going to be president, not the bridesmaid at weddings or the chief mourner at funerals."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) interpreted Eisenhower's plans as meaning "that he is not ever going to be a part-time president" and added: "He would not hang onto the office as Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt did when they were incapacitated."

Rejects Proposal To Ban Trial Of US Soldiers Abroad

WASHINGTON, March 8—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today rejected, 19-10, a proposal aimed at keeping American servicemen from being tried in foreign courts and imprisoned in foreign jails.

The group instead decided to assign to a subcommittee the job of restudying the controversial proposal, sponsored by Rep. Bow

(R-Oio.).

Tigers Into Finals Of Class L Regional

The Smith-Cotton Tigers survived a first-half scare by Jefferson City Thursday night but went on to eke out a 55-53 victory over the Jays in the semifinals of the State Class "L" Regional at Eldon. The win sent the Tigers to the finals of the tournament against Columbia's Hickman High who defeated Marshall by an 81-67 points.

Charles "Van" Van Dyne scored 20 points in leading Smith-Cotton, followed by Walt Kennon who tallied 12. West led the Jays also with 20 points.

Will Go to Foreign Country—Association of University Women to Sponsor Student

The American Association of University Women will again sponsor an American field student for the coming year, according to Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, who now has three families willing to take a student.

The McLaughlin family has been very happy having Judith Blythin from Croydon, Surrey, England. It was necessary for the AAUW to have a family express a desire for an American Field Student before it was able to proceed with official routine to apply for one, even though it has the $650 needed to bring a youngster here.

It was the first family's invitation to the AAUW to take a boy into their home that enabled them to go ahead with the plans, but many things enter into this. There is a choice of three countries given and the family may not want a child from any of the three countries, or perhaps they want a boy and there would be only girls available. Thus, there is much to be worked out yet.

Janet Chipman Becomes Bride Of B. R. Whitlow

Miss Janet Chipman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chipman, Windsor, became the bride of Lt. Billy R. Whitlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Whitlow, Clinton, Sunday afternoon, February 26, in a double ring ceremony at the Windsor Baptist Church. The Rev. Theo. Davis, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and flanked by candelabra and baskets of yellow snapdragons and calla lilies.

Dick Spencer, Blue Springs, played wedding music during the ceremony and accompanied Miss Carolyn Pope, Kansas City, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Miss Chipman, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice of lace was designed with long sleeves, extending to a point over the hands, a scoop neckline, and a softly crushed satin cummerbund. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured to a tier of nylon braid of tiny leaf design. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, yellow roses and freesias.

Mrs. Jerry Whitehead, of Ada, Oklahoma, was matron of honor. Miss Karen Chipman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. They wore identical ballerina-length gowns of embroidered net over yellow taffeta, styled with a rounded scoop neckline and petite cap sleeves. The smooth fitting bodice was highlighted by a wide crushed taffeta cummerbund, ending in wide streamers down the back. They carried a bouquet of red roses.

The best man was Lt. Robert Shoemaker, Clinton. Groomsmen were Tom Pope, Eldorado Springs; Ed Shoemaker, and Duane Lighter, St. Louis, who also served as ushers.

Mrs. Chipman chose for her daughter's wedding a suit dress of navy crepe and Mrs. Whitlow a purple crepe dress. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was skirted with ruffed nylon tulle over white satin. The centerpiece of fern and white and yellow carnations was flanked by candelabra. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow and white. Mrs. Robert Shoemaker, Clinton, and Mrs. Richard Sims, Kansas City, served at the reception table assisted by Mrs. James McCampbell, Mrs. Frank Coit, Mrs. Josh Carney and Mrs. Howard Bullock. Misses Cheryl and Dixie Chipman, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the gifts and Miss Ann Glenn of Greenfield, attended the guest book.

Thomas Duvall, Kansas City, served as best man. James Winters, brother of the bride, Blackburn, and Wally Hinck, brother-in-law of the bride, Concordia, were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon tulle and French lace over satin. The artfully designed overskirt was appliqued with a deep peplum effect of lace. The lace, cut in an intricate pattern was edged with tiny tulle ruffling. A bouffant second skirt entirely of tulle flounces covered the satin underskirt. The bodice was lace with long fitted sleeves and a small roll collar. Her double illusion of tulle was held by an open crowned pillow box of lace, bound with satin and outlined with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Robert Larkin, Columbus, Georgia, served her sister as matron of honor and Miss Wanda Singley, Sedalia, served as the bridesmaid. They wore identical princess style gowns of open blue crystalate shantung. Both wore bouquets of matching fabric and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

J. B. Tevis, Jr., Washington, Missouri, served his brother as best man and Norman Withaus, Sedalia, served as groomsman. Robert Weikal, Bill Reid, Eldon Leiter, Gerald Cain and John Harvey, Jr., were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a light navy blue dress with gray accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a winter mauve dress with black accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church parlor. The table was covered with white net over satin and was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The base of the cake, the candelabra and the table were decorated with pink roses and green smilax. Miss Pat Clark and Miss Irene James, Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Gerald Cain, Sedalia, served at the bride's table. Mrs. Gordon Brightman, Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Robert Weikal, Bill Reid, Eldon Leiter, Gerald Cain and John Harvey, Jr., were ushers.

Official Explains Net Farm Income

By SCOTT WEBBER
District Manager

Sedalia Social Security Office

In my last article I described the purpose of the small Schedule SE at the bottom of Schedule F, which self-employed farmers should file along with Income Tax Form 1040 early in 1956. This is required of all farm and ranch operators who had net earnings of as much as $400 in 1955; they are also required to pay the 3 per cent social security tax on such earnings (up to $4,200 for the year) whether or not any income tax is due.

Today, I shall explain what is meant by "net earnings" for social security purposes and how to figure the amount.

In general, your self-employed earnings from farming are your net profits for the year from farming, computed by taking your total farm income and subtracting from it your total farm expenses (such as wages paid to hired workers, depreciation on farm buildings and equipment, and the cost of seed and fertilizer). For social security purposes, however, do not take into consideration any items of income or expense on account of rental income (such as crop shares received by you from a share-farmer as rent for the use of your land) or on account of capital gains or losses. The "gains and losses" you should exclude are those which were not derived from transactions affecting stock in trade or property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of your business. For example, gains or losses from the sale or exchange of land, farm equipment, dairy breeding, and work animals, farm trucks and tractors, etc., should not be considered in figuring your net earnings for social security purposes. Please bear in mind, however, that these exclusions apply only to social security; they are, however, taken into account in figuring your income tax.

While some farmers and ranchers figure their income on an "accrual method," most of them use the "cash receipts and disbursement method" of keeping records. The cash method means recording items of income or expense—whether cash, property, or services—generally in the year in which received or paid. In my next article I shall describe the optional ways whereby many farmers who use the cash method can figure their net earnings for social security purposes.

Self-employed farmers should report their 1955 net income for social security credit and pay the self-employment tax not later than April 15, 1956. Watch for a full explanation of these reporting requirements in a later installment of this series.

Talks On Membership—

State President Speaks At Dinner Meeting of BPWC

Miss Alberta Meyer of Jefferson City, state president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was the speaker Thursday night at the dinner meeting which was the annual birthday party of the Sedalia BPWC club held at Bothwell Hotel.

Miss Meyer talked on "Membership in the Business and Professional Women's Club". There are three kinds of members, she said, a few that make things happen, some who watch things happen and the big majority who never know what's happened.

This is the time of year when people are balancing the books to see where they stand and the business women find in looking back on the progress of their organization that it has been a great success. This organization, she pointed out, was a man's idea. He realized the great source of strength in the ability of business women. In 1915, when the first club was organized, there were 212 women who formed the Federation of Business and Professional Women. Today there are 155,000 women in the federation.

Miss Meyer told the group that the members of the BPWC are stockholders in the organization and the dividends they receive depends on the member. This organization, she said, is an outlet for action in every community, a channel of expression for women, it is a challenge. Good public relations and program co-operation are important, Miss Meyer said.

She stressed the fact that, on a local level, the membership of the club should be alert to community needs and willing to put its ability to work to reach the goals set. It takes patience, faith, devotion and co-operation. There must be cooperation, and to illustrate her point she said that freckles would make a wonderful tan if they just got together.

A special table was reserved for the new members who were introduced. Each new member was given a favor. Mrs. Frieda Nelson, a charter member of the club, was also introduced.

Decorations carried out the spring idea with an arrangement of yellow flowers on the speaker's table and daffodils centering the other tables.

"You lose energy when you have nothing to do," Miss Meyer said, "but persons busy doing something never get tired."

"Leadership," the speaker said, "is a responsibility to be shared. Give the BPWC an opportunity to create, work for a better club locally, a better federation state and nationally, to build a better America. Aim high."

Miss Meyer was introduced by Miss Doris Stott, membership chairman.

Miss Stott also presented Miss Hazel Palmer, first vice-president of the National Federation and a member of the Sedalia Club.

A clever membership skit was put on by Mrs. William C. Wilson and Mrs. Charles Huddleston on

Optometrists Pay Tribute To Ben Franklin

The Missouri Optometric Association will pay tribute to Benjamin Franklin during Save Your Vision Week, March 4 to 10, for his invention of bifocal spectacles.

The 250th anniversary of the birth of Franklin is being observed in 1956 throughout the United States and in many other countries, under the sponsorship of the Benjamin Franklin Institute of Philadelphia.

"Twenty-five million Americans who wear bifocal or trifocal glasses owe a debt of gratitude to Benjamin Franklin for his invention," Dr. B. C. Jander, president of the state association said. "Except for Franklin's invention almost everyone over 50 would have to change from one pair of glasses to another to see clearly at both near and far."

"Franklin had two pairs of glasses—one for reading and one for seeing beyond arm's length. He cut the lenses and had half of each inserted in the same frame."

Franklin invented bifocal spectacles at the age of 78, when he was ambassador to France. One of the advantages of bifocals, Franklin said, was that he could understand French better, because he could see the facial expressions of those who talked to him from across the dinner table.

Club Will See 'Magic Barrel' Demonstration

Tom Boyd, Phillips Petroleum Co., Kansas City, will present a "Magic Barrel" demonstration before members of the Sedalia Optimist Club Tuesday noon, at the Bothwell Hotel. The program is sponsored by the Oil Industry Information Committee, the public relations branch of the American Petroleum Institute.

Contained in the "Magic Barrel" are some of the 500,000 products which scientists estimate can be made from petroleum today—basic ingredients for men's suits, frozen food wrappers, automobile tires, disinfectants, safety glass and plumbing pipes. All are made from petroleum chemicals.

Members of the Optimist Club will see Boyd reveal from the "Magic Barrel" such modern miracles as a lovely flower instantly frozen stiff, a solid rod that bends light like a pretzel, a pair of slacks that won't lose their crease when dipped in water, and three "magic" chemicals which will be used to create man-made rubber before the eyes of the audience.

Boyd is a native of Aviaville, Mo., graduating from high school there.

Union Decides Against Plan To End Strike

Door Is Left Open For Possible Steps To Revise Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union conferees today turned down a government-proposed plan for settlement of the Westinghouse strike, now in its 14th day.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), said the decision by the 75-member conference board of the union was unanimous.

Carey told a news conference the union's action was "not to be considered a rejection, nor could it be considered an acceptance—it might be described that the plan so far is unacceptable."

Carey said he expected to meet today with Federal Mediation Service Director Joseph Finnegan to discuss what steps might be taken toward further negotiations with the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The company had accepted the settlement plan proposed by a three-man mediation service panel.

Departing board members indicated that the strike would go on. The Westinghouse company already has accepted the settlement plan proposed by a three-man federal mediation service panel.

There were hints the union's answer might be one of conditional acceptance, offering general approval of the settlement plan with some suggestions for changes. However, panel members have left town and indicated they plan no deviation from their proposals, stand also taken by the company.

Carey has indicated two major objections to the package settlement plan. He wanted 36 strikers, discharged for alleged strike violence, restored to jobs without the arbitration the panel had recommended. The company had agreed to rehire 57 others similarly charged.

The IUE also sought greater safeguards from the company against any wholesale transfer of workers from an incentive, or individual earnings basis, to a straight daily pay system.

One of the major issues of the strike has been union fears that the company planned a revolutionary change of worker duties and pay in a move to cut labor costs.

Otherwise, the settlement plan calls for a five-year contract with annual pay increases ranging from 5 to more than 17 cents an hour, plus pension, insurance and various other contract improvements. It was proposed, for instance, that midway in the contract the company would absorb the present $1.04 per week employee contribution for insurance.

The average pay rate before the strike began was $2.10 per hour. The body is at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel up to time for burial.

Officials Will Investigate Cadet Disorder

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—Officials indicated today they were not overly concerned about a disturbance involving 450 cadets at New Mexico Military Institute.

But in the same breath, they said they were continuing an investigation of the mass demonstration Tuesday night.

A truck from the Roswell Fire Department was sent to quench a grass fire at the school, which has an enrollment of 512.

Fire Chief George Daniels said rocks were thrown at the truck, and Fire Lt. Ernest Crockett said, "Cadets threw fire balls out of the barracks windows, setting fire to the grass just outside the barracks on the north side of the quadrangle."

Crockett said school guards kept those fires under control and the truck did not approach the barracks. Several windows were reported broken in a section of the barracks not now occupied.

An institute source said firemen used streams of water against the youths, but the fire was made worse by the fact that he is Pete Rademacher, 27-year-old infantry lieutenant at Fort Benning, who seeks the heavyweight title for his Nashville team.

Rademacher who recovered from rheumatic fever in 1945 to achieve an impressive athletic career, won the 1953 national AAU heavyweight championship and has high hopes of gaining an Olympic berth this year.

In tomorrow night's semi-final round, Rademacher's opponent will be drawn from a dangerous trio composed of Terry Lewis, Sioux City, Ia., student; Osee Groom, an unemployed Detroit; or someone from McTier, student at Alabama Teachers College on the Montgomery, Ala., squad.

The semi-final survivors meet for the title later tomorrow night and the champions in the eight different classes qualify for berths on the Western squad which meets New York's Eastern team in the intercity matches at New York March 21.

The national total of cash receipts from farm marketings declined 3 per cent in 1955.

The report stated that cash receipts in 1955 were below 1954 in 30 states and above 1954 in 18. Most of the changes, it added, were relatively small with only six states showing changes of more than 10 per cent in either direction.

Largest declines were 11 per cent in South Dakota, Kansas and New Mexico. The largest increase was 31 per cent in Maine with Alabama showing an increase of 17 per cent and North Dakota, 15 per cent.

The largest declines, of 10 or 11 per cent, the report stated, "were in New Mexico, where cotton production declined, in Kansas and Oklahoma, where wheat production was down, and in South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, and Indiana, where sharply lower hog prices were the most important factor."

Of the total cash receipts from farm marketings in Missouri for 1955, $673,639 came from live-stock and livestock products and $312,877,000 from crops.
